Peruvian Blueberry Program

Awe Sum Organic Blueberries are available from early September straight through until the end of February for loading on both coasts. Awe Sum's Organic Peruvian Blueberries are grown in the Nazca and Huaral regions, two of the best areas in Peru for Organic Blueberry production by top Organic Blueberry growers who use our cutting-edge organic fertilization program for blueberries, which results in sweet and firm berries with high brix and high pressure. Because of the unique climate where our Organic Peruvian Blueberries are grown, and our special growing methods, each of our growers are able to grow outdoors and have steady harvests over a six-month period when domestic Organic Blueberries are not widely available.
